BIG CUT IN PRICE OF CANNED GOODS IN UTAH

Word comes from Salt Lake that Ogden canned peas, of the best quality star June pack, are being sold there two cans for 15 cents.

This is a big drop from the price which prevailed up to lately, when peas sold at 10 cents a can.

It is stated that there is an over-pak of peas in Utah and the local people have placed their product on the market at the lowest figure in the history of the canning industry in Utah in an effort to make room for the new pack which is now coming on.

First grade peas at 10 cents a can are about the cheapest canned foodstuff to be had, and the heavy cut in price should stimulate the demand and create a greatly increased consumption.

SEWING EXHIBIT AT LEWIS SCHOOL IS EXCELLENT

Friday the members of the Children's Aid Society were visitors in the School where a practical demonstration in social co-operation is being made.

The girls of the department have just completed seventy-five articles of wearing apparel which will be dispensed by the Aid Society to the poor children of the city. The material was furnished by the ladies of the society; the girls of the school contributing the labor of making.

In addition, each girl has made for herself a complete outfit of clothing, including a beautifully made dress.

The exhibit numbers over a thousand and presents an impressive sight to anyone interested in girls and their capabilities. The work done gives evidence of wonderful interest and industry, together with careful instruction.

The exhibit will be continued Monday and is open to the public.

STATE OFFICERS ARE CITY LEAGUE TEAMS WILL MEET ON SUNDAY

The second double-header of the city baseball league schedule will be staged tomorrow afternoon at the fair grounds, the first game to begin at 1:30 p. m. and the second, the Never-Rips and Galcos will be the contestants.

All four teams have been getting some good practice since the season opened and the league management is optimistic with regard to giving their patrons some interesting entertainment when the teams get together tomorrow.

A five-minute car service to the grounds has been arranged for, beginning at 1 p. m., and a large attendance is anticipated.

There are two state roads in Weber county intersecting at Washington avenue and Twenty-fourth street, and the object of the meeting between the county and state officers was to acquaint each board with plans for the year's work, including approximate costs and designation of places where improvements are most needed.

Talesmen have been summoned to serve as jurors in Judge N. J. Harris' division of the district court for the May term as follows:

Clarence Porter, John G. Chadwick, Fred S. Taylor, James Draney, Benjamin Hunsaker, Thomas B. Evans, Arthur L. Agee, Peter Johnson, John Leavitt, Frank E. Tribe, William H. Dalton, Robert M. Wardleigh, Byron R. Moyes, W. E. Moore, Andrew A. Kerr, L. M. Barnes, Job Pingree, Jr., James Miller, F. J. Guthrie, Charles A. Halverson, Charles A. Engstrom, W. H. Chard, Oliver A. Penrod, James Bune, Gustave Felt.

JAP AND WHITE WOMAN MARRIED

Later developments in the attempted murder and suicide, which occurred yesterday afternoon at 220 Twenty-fourth street, and in which S. Nilda, Japanese, and Donna Verna, a white woman, were the principals, revealed the fact that the couple were married in Rexburg, Idaho, on March 18, and came to Ogden a few days later.

At the hospital it was found that Mrs. Nilda had been injured in seven places by five bullets, instead of two as was at first supposed. None of the wounds, however, are considered serious and a report from the hospital today was to the effect that, unless unforeseen complications set in, she would be able to leave that institution in about 10 days.

While an air of gravity pervaded the White Horse, officials went about making arrangements to keep the president in close touch with all branches of the government.

The chief concern of administration officials was the state of public opinion when details begin to come in.

Ambassador Page Reports.

Ambassador Page at London advised the state department that he has instructed the consul at Queenstown to care for the survivors and to furnish money where it is needed. Two American army officers have been sent to assist.

His message reads:

"I have instructed our consul at Queenstown to care for bodies of dead and to give all help to sick and aid the survivors who lost all cash and I have sent two army officers, Captain Miller and Captain Castle."

U. S. Consul's Message.

A cablegram from Consul Lauri at Queenstown said the survivors "of all nationalities" numbered 634 and gave a list of 51 Americans saved. There were 118 American passengers aboard.

Some members of congress were here today, including senators on the foreign relations committee, but they were unable to predict what the government's course would be. Many thought that no important action would be taken without calling a special session of congress, as the president heretofore has consulted both houses whenever a serious situation has arisen in the nation's foreign affairs.

WALL STREET

Unmistakable proof of its underlying soundness in the face of adverse conditions was offered by the stock market during today's two hour session. Declines of 3 to 10 points attended the early trading. Before the end of the first half hour most of these losses had been largely retrieved and some actual gains were made. The tide turned as soon as it became manifest that substantial financial interests were not only supporting the market, but buying for investment as well. Prices shaded a point or more from their final dealings. Bonds were heavy.
